

SCHOOLS DESIGN COMPETITION

RESOLUTION RE: THE CHICAGO PUBLIC

WHEREAS, The Chicago Public Schools (CPS) and a coalition of educational reform came together in the fall of 1999 to begin the process of hosting a national design firm to bid to work on building schools in Chicago, one of the urban sites in the Roseland north side in the Irving Park community, and

WHEREAS, the goals of the innovation and design competition importance of school design and innovative methods of incorporating "universal design" techniq

WHEREAS, the concept of Universal Design in schools is a program which is the fu design, and

WHEREAS, the CPS design competition has been made possible the Richard D'Amico Foundation, the National Endowment for the Arts, the Graham Foundation for the Chicago Architecture Foundation, the Chicago Architecture Foundation, the Government Community College of Chicago, the University of Illinois at Chicago, the University of Chicago, the University of

WHEREAS, various individuals at the Chicago Public Schools have devoted a tremendous unt of time and energy to the design competition, including Tim Martin, Chief Operating Officer; Sue and